1. Company profile

Better Technology Group CO., LTD was established in 2004 and is headquartered in Quzhou, Zhejiang Province.

Our products include fire pumps, diesel engine pumps, controller, mobile pump trucks, complete sets of sewage treatment equipment, oil-water separation equipment, complete sets of water supply equipment, integrated prefabricated pump stations, and various general water pumps. These products are widely used in construction, fire protection, environmental protection, water supply and drainage, HVAC, petroleum, chemical, and metallurgy industries, providing a rich product matrix and diverse solutions for our customers.

Better Technology Group is one of the first enterprises in China to pass the professional evaluation of industry-leading fire protection products according to the UL and CE standards. And continue to develop products that meet UL and FM certification standards, ensuring our product quality meets international leading levels. The company possesses world-leading intelligent water pump testing and inspection equipment, as well as online motor testing and inspection systems. After nearly two decades of solid operations, it now holds 30 patents and has received numerous honors, including being recognized as a National High-Tech Enterprise, a Zhejiang Science and Technology Enterprise, a Zhejiang Manufacturing Standard Drafting Enterprise, and a Quzhou City Expert Workstation.

Many of its products and technologies have won awards such as the Research and Development Center Award, the Zhejiang Provincial Science and Technology Progress Award, and the National Fluid Equipment Technology Innovation Award. Additionally, Better Technology Group serves as the deputy director of the Fluid Equipment Professional Committee of the China Water
